Two Gun Louie was the first of the Vivios to emigrate to America from Italy. He left the port of Naples and sailed to Ellis Island, NY, arriving in 1920. Back in the day, when Italian immigrants were considered second class citizens, he carried a small pistol in each pocket for protection, receiving the nickname “ Two Gun Louie”. Vivio's is now operated by his grandkids & wonderful staff and his great grandkids are in training!

What is a Neapolitan Pizza (aka Pizza Napolitana)? It's a Naples style pizza perfected in Naples, Italy around 300 years ago. It's cooked super fast in a really hot oven (around 800 degrees), which locks in and combines and layers the flavors of the ingredients chosen. What we make is our interpretation with a few tweaks and a few added ingredients. It's not a thick pizza, it's a wonderful pizza! We're sure you'll enjoy and we wish you happy eatings. Pizza really is love ya know!

HOW TO EAT MUSSELS

It's best to eat mussels from bottom to top of the pot, working your way up so that all mussels get the broth flavor. Pull one out of the shell with your fork (or fingers!), dunk in melted butter, dip bread in broth, eat mussel, bite bread, repeat until gone!

If a few mussels are not open, don't hesitate to open with your knife and enjoy. The old adage about not eating those that don't open does not hold true here! Our mussels are pasteurized, direct from the ocean, and quite safe. Enjoy!
